WORKSHOP

Intel® Distribution of OpenVINO™ Toolkit Online Training

Institute Name: Intel

I participated in an online training session organized by Intel on the Intel® Distribution of OpenVINO™ Toolkit. This training focused on leveraging the OpenVINO™ Toolkit to optimize and deploy deep learning models across various Intel® hardware, including CPUs, GPUs, and VPUs. The session covered key topics such as model optimization, inference acceleration, and deployment techniques. By participating in this training, I gained valuable insights into enhancing the performance of AI applications and learned best practices for implementing computer vision solutions using Intel's powerful toolkit.
